

Topic:

Ideally in the perfect world money would be as important as self satisfaction.

Which is more important in a job?:

Money or personal satisfaction or both?

Give your reasons.

INGREDIENTS

- The top bun
- The lettuce
- The tomato
- The cheese
- The burger
- The bottom bun

However most people consider money more important than self satisfaction.

Firstly your need money to survive. Money pays the bills such as electricity, gas and water.

It also puts food on your table and provides a good education for your children.

Not only does it allow you to purchase the things you need but also the things you want, such as houses, cars and holidays.

Leisure activities and holidays are also possible only with money

As a result most people become greedy and forget self satisfaction.

STRUCTURE

On the other hand, some people prefer doing a job they love without considering money to be more important.

The topic sentence

For these people it is more important to wake up in a the morning and feel happy to do to work.

The first point

Doctors without frontiers is an example of how difficult a job can be

The second point

And often dangerous under the conditions they work in.

The third point

No matter how long the hours are and how hard the work is they feel satisfied and very proud.

The last point

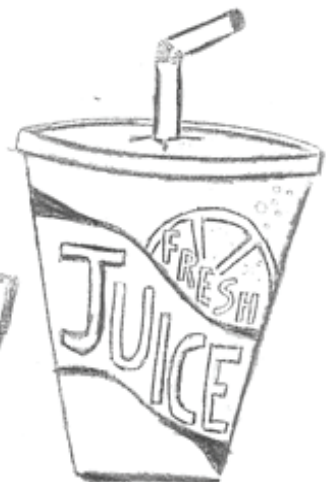

It is important to have these kind of people who help our societv to become a better place.

The closing sentence

In conclusion it is very hard to choose but if I had to I would choose money because survival in our times of finance crisis is a top consideration.

APOSTOLAKIS STELIOS.

design
K.Tatsis '14